

A POSTCARD HOME!

Imagine you have just moved to Gravesend for the first time. You might have moved from another part of Britain or from another country. Write a postcard to tell the family left behind about your new home. Remember a postcard is like a short letter.

Here are some things to think about to help you.

Why have you moved to Gravesend? What are the people like? Are you missing your old home? What's the best thing you've found out about Gravesend? Do you like it in Gravesend? How are you feeling?

Don't forget to draw a picture of somewhere well known in Gravesend to decorate the front of your postcard.

Cut round the template and when you have drawn your picture and written your card, fold the template in two and stick together to make your postcard.

	 A large rectangular box divided into two vertical sections. The left section is for drawing a picture. The right section is for writing a message and contains a small square box in the top right corner for an address.
